This is the Foundation

At this point you will use what you have picked to point you in the right direction. I already told you that most of these build on each other- but one must almost always be the focus.

Each of these will have its own set up resource pages- you know- the online tools that you would need to work your business.

But if you need some tools right now with some discounts...go here

Here is where you will dive deeply into your path.
of course- this is just a start. There really is so much to learn in the online space-but I'll help you keep abreast of everything.
See you soon in the next course!
